

SEED THIEVES RING TRACED TO LEE COUNTY

WAGE - HOUR LAWS HINTED BY ROOSEVELT

Judiciary Reform Argument Hinges on FDR'S Plans

Washington, March 31.—(AP)—Argument over judiciary reorganization turned today on the type of legislation President Roosevelt wishes to validate by revamping the Supreme Court and on whether the pending bill would bring about his objectives.

The president himself provided the latest hint. At a press conference late yesterday, he expressed the opinion that state minimum wage legislation should not be confined to women—as in the Washington law just upheld—but should cover all persons.

If Attorney General Cummings rules that the District of Columbia wage statute for women and minors is inoperative, he said, Congress will be asked to enact another covering men as well.

This law was invalidated by the Supreme Court 14 years ago, but was upheld on Monday when the court sustained the Washington law.

It was said in official quarters that a division existed within the administration on whether to press for federal wage and hour legislation at this time.

The ultimate decision apparently will depend on studies being made by Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson and others. The president said it was much too early to discuss the subject publicly.

A large field for social legislation came up for examination in testimony today at the Senate Judiciary hearings by Edwin Borchard, professor of constitutional law at Yale.

Offends Ethics In his prepared statement, he opposed the Roosevelt court bill on grounds that it would not accomplish its purpose and that "it offends the ethical conception of so large a proportion of the population."

"Possibly the rumor is correct," he said, "that the legislation desired is a new NRA or AAA or legislation controlling wages or hours of labor in industry or prices of certain commodities widely used."

Then he asked: "Assuming that the new judges will be as independent as the circumstances of their appointment will permit, what reason is there to suppose that they will take a different view of interstate commerce and the limitations of federal power than did the present court, unanimously, in the NRA case?"

Borchard's testimony ran squarely against the position taken in a

On Minimum Wages

Anderson, S. C., March 31. (AP)—The minimum wage law for women, upheld by the Supreme Court, is not fair, in the opinion of one office girl here.

Asked by a reporter if she approved the decision on minimum wages for women, the blonde replied:

"No, I'm not in favor of minimum wages. They're small enough as it is."

Winnetkans' Conversation Can Turn to Non-Provocative Items

Chicago, March 31.—(AP)—Culmination of a divorce action involving a socially prominent woman of suburban Winnetka and a fireman of that community today gave the North Shore fashionable colony a chance to turn to less provocative topics.

Ringling down the curtain on a court episode replete in unconventional disclosures, Circuit Judge Joseph Burke yesterday granted a separate maintenance decree to Mrs. Gertrude Wood and also dismissed the divorce suit brought by her husband, dark-haired David Wood.

The Winnetka housewife had from the witness stand identified Mrs. Caroline de Windt Gardner as co-respondent. Mrs. Gardner's ancestral fop was President John Adams.

Mrs. Wood testified to finding a letter, couched in endearing terms, written by Mrs. Gardner and addressed to Wood. It described various incidents of a romantic relationship.

She testified that her husband had boasted of standing on the balcony of the fire station and watching Mrs. Gardner "parade before the bedroom window."

Judge Burke said "the conclusion is inescapable that the friendship between Wood and Mrs. Gardner was more than a platonic friendship."

In granting Mrs. Wood $100 a month alimony.

Both Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Gardner are the mothers of two children.

Mrs. Gardner and her husband, Albert S. Gardner, former head of a stationery company, live apart.

Gardner said the arrangement was "only for business expediency."

Was Hard to Kill

Buffalo, N. Y., March 31.—(AP)—Thomas Smith, 18, who "didn't care much for girls" waited in jail today for arraignment on a first degree murder charge for the attack slaying of honey-haired Mary Ellen Babcock, 18, in February.

Police Commissioner Jas. W. Higgins and District Attorney Walter C. Newcomb said had signed a 22-page confession that he stabbed the girl with a pocket knife.

Lieutenant William E. Downey and two other detectives who arrested the youth on his way home from church, quoted Smith as saying:

"She was hard to kill. She put up an awful fight. I kept stabbing her and she kept fighting, so I finally grabbed a couple of big rocks and hit her."

BLOODY FINGER PRINTS CLUE IN TRIPLE MURDER

May Bring Solution of New York Easter Morning Mystery

New York, March 31.—(AP)—After questioning three men for over four hours, District Attorney William C. Dodge announced today that police "have a definite suspect" in the triple murder of art model Veronica "Ronnie" Gedeon, her mother and a roomer, Frank Byrnes, Easter Sunday morning in a Beekman Hill apartment.

His statement followed lengthy questioning of Joseph Gedeon, father of the 20-year-old model, who was estranged from his wife; Robert Fowler, 25, whose marriage to "Ronnie" at 16 was quickly annulled; and George (Frenchy) Guert, 46-year-old unemployed chauffeur and former roomer at the Gedeon apartment.

One of "Ronnie's" closest girl friends, Jean Carp, 20, also a model, was questioned again today.

"Is this suspect a man or woman?" District Attorney Dodge was asked as he took time out from the questioning to talk to reporters who thronged the East 51st station house.

Sleeping Beauty Will be 32 Years Old on Thursday

Chicago, March 31.—(AP)—Patricia Maguire, who as a victim of sleeping sickness has hovered below the line of consciousness for five years, will be 32 years old tomorrow.

Except for a gain of about 20 pounds the passing years have not left much of a mark on the pretty dark-haired girl, who lapsed into slumber in February, 1932, and since has defied the efforts of medical science to arouse her.

"I believe she looks even younger than she did when she was taken ill," said her mother, Mrs. Peter Miley, who has nursed the girl constantly in their suburban Oak Park home.

No special preparations have been made to celebrate Patricia's birthday. "It will be just another day," said Mrs. Miley—just another day of feeding, bathing and massaging the helpless girl, tasks in which Mrs. Miley is aided by another daughter, Mrs. Gladys Hansen.

MAYOR, BOMB VICTIM, NEAR DEATH TODAY

Kirkville, Mo., Mystified by Outrage

Kirkville, Mo., March 31.—(AP)—Mayor Gail A. Jacobs was reported losing ground today from critical injuries suffered when a bomb wrecked his automobile yesterday morning.

Col. B. M. Casteel, state highway patrol superintendent directing an investigation by state, city and county officers, said patrolmen had learned the bomb was made by putting powder, believed to be blasting powder, into a pipe, and attaching the pipe to an electric detonator which was connected to the wire from the generator to the battery. This was devised, Col. Casteel said, so that the blast would be set off when anyone stepped on the starter of the automobile.

Col. Casteel said the perpetrator of the crime must have possessed a "fiendish disregard" for the possibility some other member of the Jacobs family might have used the car before the mayor.

The fact that black blasting powder was believed to have been

Officials of East Dundee, Freeport and Sterling have been summoned to show the board cause why orders should not be issued requiring these municipalities to stop emptying raw sewage into the Fox, Rock and Pecatonica rivers.

Dr. Jirka said that the three communities are the only Illinois municipalities still practicing stream disposal of untreated sewage.

An Unusual Explorer

DR. ALBERT E. WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Distinguished scientist, who is the author of the most unusual and interesting scientific articles ever presented to newspaper readers of the country, will come into the homes of Telegraph readers every Saturday evening with his striking articles on explorations of the human mind.

Dr. Wiggam, a distinguished scientist, author of many books dealing with human beings, has instituted a new feature, "Let's Explore Your Mind," which will be published each Saturday in this paper, and which the publishers are certain will result in animated, lively discussions among all who read them.

For instance: How would you answer this question: "Since a daughter often resembles her father can you explain why she doesn't inherit his big feet?" Or—

"Is it safer for the heredity of the children for a girl to marry the good son from a bad family than it is to marry the bad son from a good family?"

Those are difficult questions, aren't they? How would you answer them?

By The Associated Press Apparently reliable reports that General Francisco Franco had imported 1,000 Italian colonials to stamp out revolt in Spanish Morocco—cradle of his rebellion against the government of Spain—fanned today the international fires started by that bloody civil war more than eight months ago.

Simultaneously, Great Britain and France joined in this flat warning to Franco: "Keep your hands off our ships!"

French Moroccan sources heard that the "overseas colonial troops" had landed at Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, and been distributed through the insurgent-held Spanish zone because of a still "serious" movement against Franco's regime.

Italy, one of the 27 international pledgers of neutrality stirred European alarm only a few days ago

Philadelphia, March 31.—(AP)—It was a woman's idea that brought 15 embarrassed future fathers to the Pennsylvania hospital for its new course in baby bathing and diaper changing.

Coroner's Jury Is Unable to Fix Blame for "Bud" Slain's Death

The inquisition into the death of Eugene Charles Slain, whose body was found lying in the street near the corner of Crawford avenue and Fourth street early on the morning of March 23, was concluded at the Jones funeral home this morning. Hemorrhage of the brain, skull fracture and complications, presumably sustained in being struck by an automobile while walking to his home were given as the cause of death in the verdict returned by the jury.

Dr. David Murphy and Henry J. McCoy, who upon the order of Dr. K. B. Segner, coroner, conducted an examination of the body when the inquest was recessed last week, testified this morning as to their findings. The physicians described to the coroner's jury the nature of the injuries, both being of the opinion that the deceased was struck by an automobile and thrown to the paving, where he remained in an unconscious condition for several hours, until the body was discovered and removed to his home.

The investigation which has been conducted by Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber has failed to disclose the identity of the driver of the car which struck Slain.

Came Too Late

Aurora, Ill., March 31.—(AP)—The Easter card for which Mrs. Jeanette Martin, 25, waited in vain was written the same day she strangled her three small daughters and hanged herself. It was disclosed by her husband, John, 25, yesterday.

Mrs. Martin took her daughters to church Easter morning to have them baptized, before committing the crime. She left a note saying "Johnnie has three children and can't send them a card on Easter."

Martin learned of the tragedy yesterday. On Easter, he said, he wrote a card telling his wife and daughters of his luck in finding a job.

Yesterday while Martin was en route home, his wife and daughters were buried.

PEACE IN COAL AND AUTO WORKS IS IN PROSPECT

Conferences Nearing Settlement of All Major Issues

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A recess in negotiations to settle the nation's major labor dispute brought to the fore today arguments in legislative halls over the sit-down method of conducting strikes.

Gov. Frank Murphy said a settlement of the Chrysler Motor Corporation strike involving 60,000 workers might be reached anytime. Walter P. Chrysler, corporation chairman, and John L. Lewis, labor chief, were expected to meet again this week-end.

The governor saw possibility of a final settlement "not long after we convene" Friday. The United Automobile Workers Union's demand for exclusive bargaining rights remained the nub of the controversy.

Fight Sit-Down Strikes At Washington the house rules committee opened a hearing on a resolution for a congressional investigation of sit-down strikes, Rep. Dies (D-Tex.), sponsor of the measure, said Lewis has issued an order banning sit-down strikes and that if he made it public the need for an inquiry would pass.

Three measures making sit-down strikes felonious were before the Michigan senate.

The reported withdrawal of all demands excepting that for higher pay led to a belief the United Mine Workers would reach an agreement with soft coal operators, averting a strike threatened for tomorrow. Negotiations were resumed at New York today.

Disorders Reported Disorders broke out in several sectors yesterday. Police and sheriff's deputies employed tear gas and night sticks to disperse 300 men they described as pickets at the California Conserving Company plant at Hayward, Calif. Red pep-

Cache Found West of the City Monday

Putnam County's Prisoners May Be Involved

The finding of more than a hundred dollars worth of clover seed in a ditch on the River road one mile west of the city limits yesterday, was subject of wide investigation by Sheriff Ward Miller, Deputy Gilbert Finch and Sheriff Lawrence Ellena of Putnam county today. The seed was reported to have been stolen from two elevators in Putnam county over the week end and the investigating officers linked it with a series of robberies which have taken place in central and northern Illinois over a period of several weeks.

Several boys playing along the river road just north of the Reynoldswood farms, discovered the half dozen 60-pound bags of valuable seed late Monday afternoon. News of their discovery did not reach Sheriff Miller until late yesterday and an immediate investigation was begun. Last evening the Lee county officers had succeeded in recovering the greater part of the stolen seed which was taken to the county jail.

Stolen Over Week End Sheriff Ellena was notified when serial numbers which were traced by the local sheriff's office, revealed that the seed was stolen from that county over the week end. An elevator at Standard was reported to have been entered Saturday night and a warehouse at McNabb was entered Sunday night and several hundred dollars worth of clover and timothy seed was hauled away.

Apparently part of the stolen seed was hauled west of Dixon where it was unloaded and placed in a ditch, where it was covered

Sterling Youth's Body Found in His Car at Belleville

The body of Gordon H. Barton, 32, of Sterling, was found slumped over the steering wheel of his automobile on a highway eight miles northwest of Belleville, Ill., late yesterday afternoon, a rubber hose attached to the exhaust pipe of the car.

In a note addressed to an uncle, David Peat, of Polo, Barton asked forgiveness and expressed a wish that "God will see fit to send me back for another chance."

Barton, a mechanic, resided in Sterling with his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barry, and had been employed in the Lawrence Brothers factory in Sterling.

—FINGER PRINTS IDENTIFIED

Hennepin, Ill., March 31.—(AP)—A man shot in the head by Sheriff Lawrence Ellena during a rough and tumble battle in the Putnam county jail Monday was identified today as George Cameron of Ottumwa, a former farmer.

LaSalle and Bureau county investigators traced his identity through elevator receipts found on his person and confirmed it through his former wife, Cameron remained in Spring Valley hospital, where physicians, once despairing of his life, said he probably would recover.

Clarence Wells, 30, of Fandon, Ill., arrested with Cameron for a theft of seed, was charged with grand larceny. Both Wells and Cannon were identified by Harold Whitten of Elmwood as the men who purchased gasoline from him Friday night after robbing the Eldon McKown farm near there of $200 worth of clover seed.

—FRACTURED SKULL

Thomas McBride, 70, assistant janitor at the North Central school, sustained a fracture of the skull in an accidental fall at the school building this morning about 8:30.

He was washing windows in the building and was standing on a ladder when it slipped from beneath him. He fell a distance of about ten feet and his head is believed to have struck the ladder. He was removed to the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital immediately.

over by a piece of heavy canvas.

Several sacks of seed were found early Monday morning, secreted along a fence in Putnam county, which resulted in the apprehension of two men by Sheriff Ellena, who have been identified, one of whom was shot through the head by the Putnam county sheriff early Monday morning in a 20 minute hand to hand battle in the Putnam county jail. The two men were in possession of a stolen car which bore fictitious license plates, it was said.

Numbers Identical

Consignment numbers on the bags of seed recovered in Putnam county and those recovered yesterday west of Dixon are identical, and are a part of the week end cache from the two Putnam county elevators. A representative of the McNabb seed warehouse accompanied Sheriff Ellena to Dixon today and identified the consignment numbers appearing on the bags of seed which have been recovered west of Dixon. Officers of Lee and Putnam county who are conducting the investigation, expressed a belief that the bags of seed had been unloaded some time early Monday morning and were to have been picked up by other members of what appears to be a well organized gang of thieves.

The stranger, known Cannon, Fay and Cameron, who is a patient in the Spring Valley hospital was visited by Sheriff Ellena while he was enroute to Dixon this morning, but his condition is such that he has not talked since being shot down at the early hour Monday morning.

The second suspect is still under heavy guard in the county jail at Hennepin.

Finger prints have been taken of both men and copies of these have been forwarded to Springfield, Ill., and Washington, D. C., in an effort to establish positive identification.

Replying specifically to attacks on the bill by Senators Glass (D-Va) and Borah (R-Idaho), Robinson said statements that a movement to undermine the Supreme Court is under way were made "in ignorance or misrepresentation."

He pointed out that it had accepted Congress' definition of intoxicating liquor in the Volstead act, but that in many laws regulating interstate commerce it "had no guidance from Congress" and had to work out its own definition.

Carney Enchants Phidian Art Club In Mexico Talk

Vincent Carney of Rochelle, well-known in musical circles and who is rapidly establishing himself as a public speaker, entertained the Phidian Art club Tuesday afternoon at the W. H. Coppins home with a delightful travelogue based on his recent journeys in Mexico.

Swiftly, by means of moving pictures and word description, the audience moved along the pass from one village to another, seeing the natives as they went about their daily tasks at the market, or in their crude kitchens or as they staged a religious fiesta for Ash Wednesday or a bull fight for the benefit of tourist spectators.

From the starting point at Tezcuicacal through Jacala and San Juan Tealco and on to Oaxaca, the audience remained spell-bound, witnessing this contemporary life against a background of antiquity. The beauty of the frescos and friezes on the exterior of the cathedrals was most perfectly depicted in the pictures as was the contour of the landscape and the native trees and plants.

A display of choice curios, taxidermy and ancient garbs of the clergy was greatly enjoyed. During the business session, Mrs. Edwards urged all members who wish to attend the president's conference luncheon in Chicago on May 15 to make reservations at once.

At the close of the afternoon, Mrs. Coppins served delicious refreshments. She was assisted by her two daughters, Mrs. Dwight Chapman and Miss Lois Coppins. Mrs. Frank Edwards and Mrs. E. B. Raymond presided at the attractive tea table which was centered with sweet peas and lighted tapers.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. G. Murray. Mrs. Warner will give the paper.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. IAGO GALDSTON

Rubbing It In

The treatment of pains, aches and injuries by massage seems to be a matter of intuition. Animals when they are hurt spontaneously lick and rub the affected part. Children bumping themselves instinctively massage the hurt.

The ancient Greek knew the value of massage as a therapeutic and tonic practice. The rubdown given the modern athlete by his trainer or attendant is unquestionably similar to that administered in time past to the Olympian contestants. In recent years, massage has come much into style and many seem to believe that if a little rubbing is good, a lot of it must be excellent. In this they are sorely in error.

Vigorous massaging, more properly called mauling, seldom if ever does any good, and frequently causes damage. Particularly is this likely to be so when violent massage is applied in the treatment of rheumatic or other joint diseases, to acutely inflamed tissues, during fever and when there are abdominal disturbances. In the last condition, violent manipulation has been known to cause uterine displacement, has injured abdominal adhesions and has been responsible for the flaring up of quiescent gall-bladder and appendix disease.

In general it may be said that when massage or manipulation leaves an individual exhausted and "aching all over," the treatment was too violent. There are some rare cases in which forceful massage or manipulation is indicated. These instances must be determined by the attending physician, who should either administer or supervise the treatment.

Massage is extensively advised and applied for the local reduction of fat. Notwithstanding all the supposed proof that this is effective, careful medical inquiry has failed to show that local fat can be removed by manipulation. There is no such thing as "breaking up the fat." Anyone bent on weight reduction must depend upon a combination of exercise and dietetic restrictions.

Properly applied, massage can prove of inestimable good. Massage should not, however, be applied in acute or chronic infections which are accompanied by fever, nor where there is disease of the veins and arteries except on specific instructions from the attending physician.

Albert Linker who will meet Night Policeman James Cianfone in defense of his title as champion prevaricator of the Sun Dodgers some time next month, announced yesterday that he would go into strict training for the contest early next week. When asked what his conditioning plans for the contest were, Linker replied, "To develop my diction to its highest degree of perfection, I propose to follow the example of the Greek orator Socrates who talked to the ocean with his mouth full of pebbles. Only in place of the ocean, I shall use Rock river. To develop lung power I shall walk into Dixon and back each morning before breakfast. This, with strict attention to diet and plenty of sleep will make the defense of my title an easy matter."

Night Policeman James Cianfone, Linker's opponent, could not be reached for a statement as to his plans. Linker will use an original yarn called "The Turtle" while Cianfone's vehicle is called "How Tony and I Went Fishing and Caught a 'Wiffunpoof'."

EMOTIONS CAN EMBROIL US IN WAR; CURB THEM

Now that an unofficial armistice seems to prevail in the war between Mayor LaGuardia and Adolf Hitler, it might be instructive to study the effect which that sort of thing is apt to have on our highly-prized neutrality.

We are taking great pains to make our neutrality fool-proof in the event of another war in Europe. All that laws can do to keep us out of war, we seem determined to have done. But it wouldn't hurt us to remember that the real essence of neutrality is something that no law can reach and no government can safeguard.

For while there may be all kinds of economic and political forces that lead to war, it is still true that people ride into war on a wave of emotion. Build up the emotional background for war and you run the risk of getting into it, no matter what you do with embargoes, neutrality laws, and so on.

And the trouble with a donnybrook such as the one Mayor LaGuardia recently had with Hitler is that, while amusing, it does give us one more nudge in the direction of emotional preparedness for war.

Now the Nazi experiment in government has gone on long enough for Americans to be perfectly certain that they want none of it over here. The Nazi mentality, as revealed in concentration camps, pogroms, sword-rattlings, and the controlled obscenities of the German press, is as completely alien to our ideals as anything could be.

But that's a good place to stop. Once we go on record as being opposed to Nazism in this country, we have done our duty. If we keep going, and indulge in an emotional blowout about the tyranny of Herr Hitler, and the general ridiculousness of some of his strutting aides, we are simply greasing the skids for a slide into war at some future date.

Europe, apparently, is going to have a new war one of these days. If and when it comes, we want to stay out of it.

But suppose it does come, and finds us with this emotional antagonism to Nazism stored up in our minds. It is hard to imagine how cunning propagandists from abroad would play on that antagonism, just as they played on our earlier antagonism to the things Kaiser Wilhelm and his clique stood for. It is hard to see how we could, in that way, be made emotionally ready for war, neutrality law or no neutrality law?

We have troubles enough of our own these days, without looking for new ones beyond our borders. The next few years are going to be excellent ones in which to mind our own business. And we can do that much more easily if we refuse to let ourselves get emotional about Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, or any other ruler who has ways we happen to dislike.

IRONIC NOTE

A news item from Geneva, Switzerland, reveals that an emergency light system, with a master switch that can cause all lights in one second, is to be installed in the League of Nations palace.

The move is part of general Swiss preparations against sudden air attacks. Although the league enjoys extra territoriality, it was thought wise to take steps to guard its home from harm during invasions by air.

It is undoubtedly a wise precaution and, by the same token, a saddening one. For here is a beautiful palace, erected and dedicated to the cause of international peace by men who hoped to weld strong bonds of friendship between nations, now being guarded from the ravages of warfare they deem imminent.

Of all the ironies that have appeared in news from abroad, this seems one of the most tragic.

OLD STUFF

People generally are on the anxious seat these days. A war has long been brewing overseas, and, any of these days, the lid is likely to topple off. In America, dissension over sitdown strikes and court reform has the citizenry in a turmoil. And even Mother Nature has been acting up, what with scattered earthquakes, added seasons, advancing glaciers, and so on.

All in all, it seems another of those periods when the average human being is doing some pretty serious viewing-with-alarm. In that connection, he may want to glance over the following warning:

"The earth is degenerating in these days. There are signs that the world is speedily coming to an end. Bribery and corruption abound. Children no longer obey their parents. Every man wants to write a book and it is evident that the end of the world is speedily approaching."

Before you start giving away your worldly goods and ordering sackcloth and ashes, though it might be wise to mention that this calamity-howling appeared on an Assyrian tablet, written in 2800 B. C., almost 50 centuries ago.

So maybe we'll survive, after all.

NOVEL STUNT

The gentleman in the soldiers' home at Los Angeles who has written a 50,000-word novel, complete with plot, characters, and conversation, without once using the letter "e," may not have added much to the world's great literature, but he has at least performed a literary stunt that must have looked almost impossible.

Try to write one ordinary sentence without using that letter, and see how hard it is. Then imagine writing a whole book that way, and you begin to get some idea of the difficulties involved.

And if someone objects that this bit of work must have been more stunt than novel, it can only be said that the same thing is true of about two-thirds of the so-called novels that get published these days. Since most of them are written for almost any reason under the sun except the desire to create something of literary merit, why isn't this Los Angeles man's motive as good as any?

STUMBLING BLOC

It is reported in London that the 27 nations involved in the "hands off Spain" policy would like to poll outside nations such as the United States to see if they, too, would not like to join in the move to keep the Spanish war from developing into a world conflict.

The motive is worthy enough, heaven knows—but it all looks very much like another case of locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen.

Every war dispatch from Spain tells of foreign troops fighting for one side or the other, and of foreign guns, planes, tanks, and shells being used.

Unless some way can be found of extracting from Spanish soil the foreigners who are already there, it will be hard to work up much enthusiasm for the move to confine the conflict to Spain.

year, Senator Josiah Bailey solemnly assured his North Carolina constituents that he was a loyal Roosevelt supporter. But announcement of the President's court bill saw Bailey raise the banner of revolt.

To many staunch North Carolina Democrats this was "treachery" and "betrayal." For weeks vials of wrath have been poured on Bailey's head. Leader in this attack has been W. O. Saunders, two-listed editor of The Elizabeth City Independent, who in one editorial accused Bailey of flouting the will of the voters.

A few days later appeared a full page advertisement in North Carolina dailies, reprinting an open letter from Bailey replying to Saunders' attack. At the top of the page was a large picture of the Senator with a caption, "Senator Bailey Chooses the 'Hard Way.'" At the bottom was a line reading, "Published by friends of Senator Bailey and of Constitutional Government."

Modestly comparing himself to Peter the Apostle, Christopher Columbus, Robert E. Lee, Moses and Henry Clay, Bailey proclaimed his intention of fighting the President, come what may.

Merry-Go-Round

"Squirrel economics" is the characterization some New Deal officials are applying to the gold situation in the United States. Mines are working overtime, they point out, digging the metal out of the ground so it can be sold to the government, then the government promptly buries it in the ground at Fort Knox, Ky. . . . A scathing report on child labor in the beet sugar industry will shortly be made public by the labor department. The findings are the result of an extensive study . . .

Newsman covering the justice department are fast workers. The other day, at 4:15 in the afternoon they decided to organize a Justice Department Correspondents association, modeled after the White House Correspondents association. At 5 p. m. the newly formed association formally submitted to Attorney General Cummings a request for a larger and better press room with more comfortable furniture. At 5:15 p. m. Cummings granted the request . . .

He is bombarding Democratic senators and congressmen opposing the proposal with postal cards on which is printed: "We people don't think much of a man who accepts the nomination and election of his party, then goes to Washington, hobnobs with the enemy and votes against his President on questions of vital importance." Facts About Weather Every Gardener Should Know

Frost Dates, Length of Season Determine Selection of Flowers and Vegetables to Grow. Keep Map for Reference.

U. S. Department of Agriculture Map Which Shows Frost-Free Season

The gardener should become familiar with weather conditions in the community so that he will know when to plant, and how long a season he can expect. This information can be procured through a local weather bureau, or it can be determined from a weather map.

The length of the frost-free season, or the period from spring to fall when no killing frost is likely, is very important. It tells you, if you live in Minnesota, that you should not grow many of the long season flowers, and had better concentrate on zinnias, marigolds, petunias or other easily, and quickly-grown annuals. Should you live farther south, in Missouri for instance, you will know that you can start the same flowers much later in the season and still get them into bloom before a frost.

Many flowers and vegetable packets list information which should be studied. For instance, if the packet says that a cabbage will take 100 days to mature, you can plant it at a date which you know will include all of those days within the frost-free season. This season extends from 100 days in our northern border states to 280 days in the Gulf states, and practically the whole year in tropical Florida.

The average date of the last killing frost should be your guide for spring planting operations. This will be about a month before the latest date, and assures you of almost perfect protection. Usually seed is planted two weeks before this date, and some adventuresome gardeners plant earlier, feeling the chance of damage is less annoying than the pleasures of early vegetables or flowers are satisfying. If you must budget your work in the garden, and cannot take chances, plant two weeks after the average date.

It is interesting to see how the number of days difference between the latest killing frost and the average differ in various sections of the country. On the Atlantic seacoast it is 20 days, while Cleveland and Chicago have 36 days, with St. Louis having 38 days. Thirty days is a good average if you do not have more definite information.

CONTRACTS OF OVER ONE YEAR ARE IN VOGUE

Football Coaches Given More Time To Produce

New York, March 31.—(AP)—The college football coach who sits on the uncomfortable pinnacle of a one-year contract is rapidly passing out of the sports picture. No longer is the director of alma mater's gridiron destinies required, in one short season, to produce a winner or "git."

The long-term contract, designed to give a man sufficient time to establish his own system and prove its value, is becoming the vogue from coast to coast.

The latest development in this move to give the "man behind the guns" a break is at Indiana University, where Alvin N. Boi McMillin yesterday was signed to a ten-year renewal of his contract.

Bo, of course, already has established satisfactorily a winning system for the Hoosiers, but his new 10-year contract is indicative of the trend. Dana S. Bible this year starts a similar lengthy term at the University of Texas, having accepted the Longhorns' lucrative offer after a long and successful career at Nebraska.

From 2 to 5 years

At least 15 others will start work next fall under new contracts or renewals of old ones which range in length from two to five years.

In the latter group are Lawrence M. (Biff) Jones, who resigned his post as major in the U. S. army to replace Bible at Nebraska; William (Doc) Newton, who stepped into Hank Anderson's shoes at North Carolina State; Lynn Waldorf, who, as a reward for guiding Northwest, was given a five-year renewal, and Madison (Matty) Bell, similarly rewarded for his work at Southern Methodist.

At least two teachers of touch-down technique will inaugurate three year terms next fall. Ossie Solem, who went from Iowa to Syracuse to replace Vic Hanson, and Larry (Moon) Mullins, who left St. Benedict's in Kansas to take over the job at Loyola of New Orleans.

Coaches granted 3-year renewals include Gus Dorais at Detroit, Leo (Dutch) Meyer at Texas Christian, Harvey Harman at Pennsylvania, John P. (Little Clipper) Smith at Duquesne, and Henry H. (Heinie) Miller at St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

Two Year Group

In the two-year contract group are William F. Kern of Carnegie Tech, John L. (Paddy) Driscoll at Marquette, where, after 15 years, he has replaced Frank Murray, and Don McAllister, given a two-year extension by the University of South Carolina.

Numerous others have been awarded long-term agreements in recent campaigns, among whom are Mal Stevens at New York University, Lowell (Red) Dawson at Tulane, Carl Shavely at Cornell and Ray (Bear) Wolf, Shavely's successor at North Carolina.

Here and There In Sports World

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, March 31.—(AP)—Nobody can make heads nor tails of the current heavyweight situation. . . . To wit the following one minute interview with Joe Gould, manager of the world's champion: "Is the Chicago bout with Joe Louis still on?" . . . "I think so." . . . Is the Berlin fight with Max Schmeling still on?" . . . "I think so." . . . St. Louis writers may have been letting Paul Dean down lightly when they wrote: "His performance was anything but inspiring." . . . Charlie Drennon and Del Baker, the best signal snatchers in the two majors, say it is easier to swipe a pitch directly from the pitcher than from the catcher's signs. . . . Bet that Lefty Gomez will be the opening day pitcher for the Yankees.

A portly Los Angeles sports editor writes: "I can throw Man Mountain Dean and I haven't had a pair of tighties on in six months." . . . To which a San Francisco scribe replies: "That's no distinction. Find me a sports editor who can't throw Dean." . . . Several of the Giants say Van Mungo is faster than Bob Feller. . . . FORMER BUNDLE-WRAPPER ANGEL FOR TOURNAMENT

Midwestern Promoting Billiard Match for Amusement

New York, March 31.—(AP)—From a $4 a week bundle-wrapper in a midwestern department store, Jack Polansky, now a New Yorker, has made himself into what Broadway calls an "angel."

He's the man behind the current world pocket billiards championship tourney and, if all his plans go through, he may become one of the most important figures in the game.

A little over 20 years ago, Bundle-wrapper Polansky became interested in his spare time in what was then known as a faintly vulgar game called pool. Since then the game has become refined and has changed its name to pocket billiards. In the same period Polansky became successively a delicatessen proprietor, organizer of a big New York taxicab company, and officer of an automobile finance organization. Last November he sold out his business interests, but he retained his love of pocket billiards.

Expects Great Fun

When the manufacturer of billiards equipment which previously had sponsored world championship tournaments decided not to hold one this year, Polansky took things into his own hands. He went to the National Billiard Association and received its sanction to hold the title tourney. Twelve famous players accepted his invitation to compete for $8,000 in prize money.

In all Polansky has spent about $16,000 on the tournament. When asked what he expects to get out of all this, he answered: "A good seat down front. I'm not a promoter. I'm an 'angel.' If I break even I'll be pleased, but I won't feel disappointed if I lose a thousand dollars or two."

Each of the players has completed one match so far. This afternoon two more matches are scheduled, Erwin Rudolph of Cleveland meeting Fay Gainer of Vineland, N. J., and the 1936 champion, Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del., playing Marcel Camp of Detroit. Tonight Andrew Ponzl, 1935 tournament winner, faces Charles Seaback of Boston and Ralph Greenleaf of New York, 14-time world champion, meets Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn.

On the above Fisherman's Calendar the best days for fishing are indicated by a solid black fish, days not so good by a partially black fish, and poor days for fishing by a white fish. This calendar is scientifically compiled, using the moon, the stars, and every known factor that has a bearing on fishing as used by the "Old Timer," as well as the modern sportsman. Use discretion in selecting your fishing days—do not go when it is too windy, tide against you, or the water muddy—but select comparatively calm days when the fish shows solid black and you will find this calendar to be surprisingly accurate for both inland and deep sea fishing, and for any waters in or surrounding the United States and Canada.

News Briefs From Training Camps of American and National Leaguers

By The Associated Press

Gulfport, Miss.—Manager Bill Terry still figures Tommy Thevenot will provide reserve defensive strength for the New York Giants' infield in spite of his poor showing in exhibition games. "We haven't been playing on smooth infields and that has accounted for some of the misplays," Bill points out.

Tampa, Fla.—Although Manager Bureigh Grimes figures Catcher "Rimp" Phelps would be better off if he reduced his weight before the current 205 pounds, he isn't worried about the Brooklyn receiving department. "It's as good as the last Brooklyn pennant winners had back in 1920," Grimes maintains.

Petersburg, Fla.—Joe Di Maggio, who came to the New York Yankees last year with a dead pan and no desire to be friendly, is a different ball player this year. Success as a major leaguer and the assurance that comes with it have ripened the pride of Little Italy into one of the camp's most sociable players.

Winter Haven, Fla.—Manager Wilson of the Phillies, anxious to avenge the 6 to 0 defeat handed the Phils by the Dodgers at Clearwater last week, said he would send Pitchers Bucky Walters and Wayne Lamaster against the Brooklyn club today.

Orlando, Fla.—Manager Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators figured his team today a good bet for second place in the American league. He admits the Yankees show championship promise. "It looks as if we're the most improved club in the league," he said.

Santa Monica, Calif.—Johnny Dickshot, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, thought he hit a home run against Seattle. Just as he swatted the ball, workmen opened a gate in the fence. The ball rolled through and Dickshot trotted around the bases, but he was ordered back to second on a ground rule.

Ontario, Calif.—Linus Frey, obtained by the Chicago Cubs from Brooklyn, for infield utility, had a big, start today toward stealing the regular third base job from Stan Hack. The reason—six hits in his last six times at bat.

Los Angeles.—The Chicago White Sox faced Pittsburgh today in their last exhibition game in California, with Monty Stratton, Ted Lyons and Bill Dietrich as Manager Jimmy Dykes' pitching selection.

Daytona Beach, Fla.—The Cards opened a "tough" four-day schedule, meeting the Yankees here today, Thursday the Dodgers here, Friday to Tampa and the Reds, then the Tigers at Lakeland Saturday.

PLUM HOLLOW TO BEGIN SEASON IN BEST CONDITION

Greens Excellent At Present; Fairway Grass Thick

Plum Hollow golf club will officially open its 1937 links season about Thursday, April 15. Ted Talty, caretaker, said this morning, the opening depending on weather conditions.

One of the best golf seasons in the history of Plum Hollow links is expected this summer Talty stated today. Wide interest is being manifest among golfers from professionals to duffers, and an attractive schedule is being planned to fulfill their desires.

Several tournaments will in all likelihood be held, featuring the annual stag parties, two of which are generally held sometime in late July or in August. Mixed tournaments, two-fall foursomes, inter-city matches, and contests are all on Plum Hollow's books for 1937.

Talty Surveys Course

Talty made a brief survey of the links Tuesday and reported the greens have survived the winter in the best condition since the club was organized. The fairways are now soggy but the prospects for quick drying are the best in years since the grass seems to have deep, strong roots, and is ready to turn green and grow with the first really warm spring days.

Several foursomes are expecting to try the links out early in April before the official opening, but Talty advises golfers to be patient and stay off the links until at least the middle of the month in order to allow the fairways to get a good start in growth and keep the course in as fine a condition as possible for the drier months of the summer.

Ten Cage Teams In National Y.M.C.A. Basket Tourney

Williamsport, Pa., March 31.—(AP)—Ten teams entered the national Y. M. C. A. basketball tournament here April 8, 9 and 10 and officials said more district winners were expected.

Williamsport, Pa., will defend the championship it won last year. The Hoquiam team, Washington state champion, will travel the farthest, 2,671 miles to compete.

Other teams entered are from Hannibal, Mo.; Kokomo, Ind.; Louisville, Ky.; Brockton, Mass.; Niagara Falls and Buffalo, N. Y.; and Williamsport and Harrisburg, Pa.

Tilden Hits Old Stride, Defeats Perry In 4 Sets

Pittsburgh, March 31.—(AP)—The veteran William T. Tilden held a victory over Fred Perry, the British star, who had twice beaten him in their cross-country professional tennis series.

The 44-year-old former American champion struck his old pace last night to decisively whip his younger foe in four sets, 6-2, 8-10, 6-3, 6-3.

In a doubles match, Perry and Ellsworth Vines of California defeated Tilden and Vincent Richards, 7-5, 10-8.

PEACE CRUSADE ON ANNIVERSARY OF WORLD WAR

Admiral Byrd Accepts Honorable Chairmanship of Drive

Philadelphia—As the first definite step toward crystallization of a decision, he reached during his solitary vigil in the icy waters of the Antarctic, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, U. S. N., retired, announced that he has accepted honorary chairmanship of the emergency peace campaign's "No-Foreign-War-Crusade," to be launched April 6.

Admiral Byrd's decision to join the emergency peace campaign is in accord with the statement he made last June when he said he would devote the remainder of his life—with the exception of two years, which will be set aside for further exploration—working for international friendship and good will.

"I feel certain," he said, "that the United States can make no constructive and lasting contribution to the peace of the world by throwing her sons and substance into another conflagration in Europe or Asia. The likelihood that the United States may be invaded is extremely remote; the chief danger to us is in being drawn into a war in Europe or Asia."

Admiral Byrd pointed out the power of war propaganda, saying it would flood this country "attempting to arouse the people to an emotional fever high enough to plunge them into another 'holy war.'"

Propaganda Dangerous
"The American people," he said, "must be prepared to withstand this flood of propaganda. We must be prepared to withstand what President Roosevelt at Chautauqua, N. Y., characterized as 'fools' gold.' Nothing is more important than that the American people be made to realize the wisdom of sacrificing foreign trade with belligerents rather than building false prosperity on the war markets. The cost of war is threefold; cost of armaments in preparing for war, in human life, and in post-war depression."

Admiral Byrd's decision to take a leading role in this nation-wide campaign for peace education is the culmination of a series of circumstances which, he inferred, changed his outlook on life. It became a partial fulfillment of a promise he made himself as he lay "on the edge of life" within the shadow of the South Pole during his six months' lonely vigil at Advance Base, the world's last outpost. During that time, when he lay hovering between life and death from the effects of poisonous fumes from a faulty oil stove, he wrote his diary:

"The distance and detachment of this place seem to soften some human follies, others take on added significance. But from here, the great folly of all follies is the amazing attitude of civilized nations toward each other. It seems a great madness. If this attitude is not changed, I don't see how our civilization, as we know it, will survive."

A little later on, he made his promise which is becoming fulfilled now: "If I survive this ordeal," he wrote, "I shall devote what is left of my life largely to trying to help further the friendship of my country with other nations of the world."

War Clouds Rising
Admiral Byrd believes that the expiration of the Naval Limitation treaty, the armament race, and the general construction of military machines, are all forces contributing to the instability of the world. "When I left this country for the Antarctic," he said, "civilization was in the agony of a depression, the inevitable result of that colossal madness—the World War. Two years later, I return to a world that is again threatened with war. The great lesson has not been learned. I find a growing mass fear. Nations everywhere have been swept by a nightmare and in the resulting terror they are arming to the teeth against the day when the nightmare will come true."

Admiral Byrd is the recipient of almost every important military and naval honor, including the Hubbard gold medal "for valor in exploration;" the Congressional Medal of Honor; the Distinguished Service Medal; and the Flying Cross. He holds 22 citations from the navy department and is a commander in the French Legion of Honor.

Three More Cycles
The emergency peace campaign, now in the midst of its 1937 cycle of mass meetings and conferences, has three more cycles to run. In April, the No-Foreign-War Crusade will be launched on the 20th anniversary of America's entrance into the war. The fall program will be aimed at easing economic tensions; while throughout the campaign efforts are being made to co-ordinate people all over the country into articulate groups able to withstand the inevitable flood of propaganda which will follow a European or Asiatic war.

In the present series, a comprehensive drive to build support for effective neutrality legislation is being carried on in 1,500 meetings in more than 1,000 cities. Charles P. Taft, II, son of the late William Howard Taft, 27th President of the United States, is serving as honorary chairman of this winter series.

Other prominent persons sponsoring or speaking for the campaign include: Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, general chairman; Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, William M. Kingsley, president of the U. S. Trust Co., Ruth Nichols, aviatrix; William Allen White, editor; James G. MacDonald, editor; Kathleen Norris and Dorothy Canfield Fisher, authors; General Smedley D. Butler, U. S. M. C.; Elbert M. Jackson, illustrator; and many others.

The new speed record from coast to coast is 32 miles an hour, set by Howard Hughes in a Twin Wasp Junior.

HIGHWAYS WILL BE RENUMBERED

Many Numbers Will Be Eliminated in New Scheme

Chief Highway Engineer Ernst Lieberman has announced 24 changes in the federal and state numbers on Illinois highways. The purpose is to facilitate the use of these numbers as guides to travel. The markers on the highways are to be made this week, and all of the new locations will be noted on the department's state road map to be published for free distribution within three weeks.

In the Chicago area, U. S. 41 shields will be placed on the new Skokie road to the Wisconsin line, replacing the Ill. 68 number from a point west of Waukegan. The Ill. 68 markers will be mounted on the present U. S. 41 north from Waukegan.

Lincoln Highway Through Aurora
A new Illinois number, 31, is to be posted north from Oswego on the west bank of the Fox river through Aurora, St. Charles, Elgin and through McHenry and Richmond to the Wisconsin line. Portions of this route now bear the shields of U. S. 12, 14, 30, 330, and 34.

U. S. 30 and 330 will be removed from the new Ill. 31. U. S. 30, the Lincoln highway, will be routed west through Aurora seven miles to Ill. 47 and thence north 10 miles in 47 to the present U. S. 30. The U. S. 330, Roosevelt road, will be marked through Geneva ten miles west to the new intersection with U. S. 30 and Ill. 47.

Ill. 72 markers are to be extended east ten miles to Dundee.
In Lake county, Ill. 63 is being extended northeasterly from Barrington through Gilmer to the new location of U. S. 41 at Gurnee, using parts of Ill. 22, Ill. 176, U. S. 45, and some county pavement, and eliminating Ill. 172.

Rock River Divides Routes
West of the Fox river, the markers of Ill. 64, the North avenue highway, are to be extended westward from Sycamore, through Oregon and Mount Carroll to the Mississippi river at Savanna, Iowa. It is changing its numbering so that the 64 numeral can be followed from Chicago to Cedar Rapids, Ia. There will be a detour for construction in the Illinois section until midsummer.

Between Rockford and the Wisconsin line, Ill. 2 and U. S. 51 are being switched so that traffic following the numbers will not cross the Rock river in Rockford, U. S. 51 traffic remaining on the east side of the river and Ill. 2 remaining on the west side.
Ill. 2 is to mark a continuous route from Wisconsin through Rockford, through its present terminus at Dixon, through Sterling to Rock Island. The Ill. 86 markers from the Tri Cities to U. S. 30 two miles west of Sterling will be eliminated.

Cross-State Confusion Reduced
Two other cross-state pavements are to be identified with single state numbers for their entire distances in Illinois, as follows: Ill. 9 from Port Madison, Ia., through Canton, Pekin, Bloomington, Paxton, and Hoopeston; and Ill. 10 from Keokuk, Ia., through Macomb, Havana, Lincoln, Champaign, and Danville. On each of these cross-state pavements today are several numbers, their multiplicity confusing to travelers using the markers as guides.
Ill. 3 is to displace Ill. 150 south of Chester so that Ill. 3 markers can be followed from East St. Louis to U. S. 51 just north of Cairo.

Other changes are of a similar nature, giving continuity to a single number over fairly heavily traveled routes now marked with several numbers.

The most congested traffic area in the world is the Place de l'Opera in Paris, France. Park avenue and 57th street, in New York ranks second.

MT. MORRIS

Mt. Morris—Announcement last week that several prominent Rockford men are planning to erect a dozen or more homes in Mt. Morris this summer comes as good news to many Kable plant employees who have been striving almost desperately the past month to secure living quarters. The situation has been acute since the arrival of a number of new men who are employed in the rotogravure department at the plant, and who hope to move their families to Mt. Morris from Chicago not later than June.
Should the project materialize, it is planned to utilize as building plants a number of lots on Sunset Lane owned by Kable Brothers Co. Because of their close proximity to the plant and the fact that sewer, water and paving facilities are already present, these lots are deemed particularly desirable and will undoubtedly play an important part in the present scheme of development.

Concurrent with this announcement comes one from L. F. Brayton that he will present a petition to the village board at next month's meeting for permission to open a subdivision to be known as the Brayton-Stonebraker addition in the east part of town.

Territory included in the proposed addition for the 32 lots, 25 of which are located on the property of the Brayton estate and seven on the S. L. Stonebraker truck farm adjacent to Brayton road on the south. The Brayton land described above is located between Center street on the north and Brayton road on the south, and Bruce lane and Frederick street on the west and east respectively.

The absence of sewer and water mains has been the chief reason why steps in this direction have not been taken before, but it is believed that the demand for building sites is sufficient to warrant an attempt to make these improvements this year.

Lots on West First and Emily streets are also in great demand, and it is not unreasonable to believe that by the time fall comes at least 30 new homes will have been erected.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, weak and the world looks punk.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE TO FACE BATTLE

Varied Proposals for New State Statute Submitted

Springfield, Ill., March 31. — (AP)—A sharp battle over whether employers and workers should share in the cost loomed today as Illinois moved to line up with the unemployment insurance provisions of the federal social security act.

Governor Horner's bill introduced in the senate by John M. Lee of Chicago and Robert M. Harper of East Moline, Democrats, would assess each employee one per cent of his salary starting in 1940.

Employers would contribute 3.6 per cent of each worker's monthly salary for six months beginning July 1, with the rate dropping to 2.7 per cent after next January 1. But R. G. Soderstrom, president of the state federation of labor, asserted the workers' assessment was not contained in the original bill approved by labor leaders, and that an effort would be made to eliminate the provision.

To Seek Agreement Despite some compromise features, the fight over the bill was expected to be continued in legislative committees. The plan was to have extensive hearings, bringing in the employers, in an effort to get an agreement before roll calls are attempted.

A duplicate of the bill introduced in the senate yesterday was scheduled to be presented to the house.

The bill drafted by the governor and labor leaders provided for a state-wide pool of all payroll contributions, rather than the individual reserves plan.

A special feature, however, was a "merit rating" plan under which lower assessments could be fixed after 1943 for employers with a small turnover.

Illinois employers have been assessed by the federal social security act since the first of the year, but are receiving no credit for unemployment insurance funds paid in.

Necessary for Credit Martin P. Durkin, director of labor, said the rates were necessary to secure 90 per cent credit from the federal government for the money paid in. The six months 3.6 rate would be equivalent to the 1.8 rate for the entire year the social security act requires.

The first benefits, which would be payable on July 1, 1939, would be at the rate of 50 per cent of the most recent weekly wage, but not more than $15 a week and not less than $3, or three-fourths of the full time weekly wage, whichever is smaller.

For regular seasonal employment of less than 40 weeks a year, the labor director would be empowered to determine the period of operations and wages required to qualify workers.

A discharge for misconduct or the voluntary leaving of a job would disqualify an employee from receiving aid for five weeks.

A labor department representative would investigate claims for benefits filed at an employment office. A referee and then a board of review would be called upon to rule on any claims the labor department held were invalid.

The money would be kept separate from other state funds in the treasury.

It was during the 1935 legislative session, when Mayor Kelly put across a long series of bills, that the split developed that led to the bitter Democratic campaign a year ago.

In the current maneuvers, Senator Harold G. Ward, spokesman for Kelly, sent to third reading the congressional and senatorial reapportionment bills, with no protest from downstate where districts would be realigned.

Ward said he would press for a roll call on the bill to give Cook county, which now has ten congressmen, half the state's delegation of 27.

In the legislature, the possibility of a Democratic scrap received more attention than the meeting of the Republican state central committee announced for today. Whether the Republicans would have a quorum was uncertain. Business to be discussed included the establishment of a news bureau and adoption of by-laws.

ANOTHER SPLIT IN DEMOCRATIC RANKS IMPENDS

Slash in Chicago Park Boards Pegged Levy; Reopens Wounds

Springfield, Ill., March 31.—(AP)—The threat of another split in Democratic ranks echoed in the legislature today. Among politicians, the question of the hour was: Did the deep slash in the Chicago park district's pegged levy forecast a reopening of hostilities between Governor Horner and Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

House Democrats were widely split on the bill to guarantee the income of the Chicago consolidated park district. As it passed the senate more than a month ago it provided $9,000,000 for each of three years. As amended by the house yesterday, the figure was cut to $7,600,000 for this year and next only.

Chicago Democrats who battled for the park district headed by Robert J. Dunham, former IERC chairman and WPA director, were opposed by Benjamin S. Adamowski, the young floor leader who insisted on the $14,000,000 slash, and by Edward J. McCabe, a new legislator who is Cook county's chief deputy assessor.

Warnings of "Tax Strike" Adamowski, who has transferred his allegiance to the governor in recent legislative battles, declared the park district didn't need $9,000,000 and warned of a veto. He also told the house that another "tax strike" is impending in Chicago.

It was during the 1935 legislative session, when Mayor Kelly put across a long series of bills, that the split developed that led to the bitter Democratic campaign a year ago.

In the current maneuvers, Senator Harold G. Ward, spokesman for Kelly, sent to third reading the congressional and senatorial reapportionment bills, with no protest from downstate where districts would be realigned.

But at Long Beach auto camp when Speddon appears, Neal has disappeared from the trailer. Driving off with Betty to check Neal's disappearance, Speddon fails to return. Frankie, Martha calls police. Then she gets a wire, hours later, signed "Betty" and advising that Betty will meet her at a San Francisco hotel.

Public Citizen No. 1 If Franklin Grove were to conduct a search for the citizen who had been its greatest benefactor for 1937, I think we would all name our good friend Frank Kersten.

"Frank" has been with us in this community for many years. He has a reputation for being honest to the letter; he has a good word for everyone, and among his many virtues he has a real interest in young people in Franklin. When one of our largest taxpayers cheerfully offers $300 toward a public benefit, such as the new community building, he deserves the praise and respect of his fellow citizens. We hope Frank has many years of pleasure in seeing young and old alike enjoy the benefits of his generosity.

Time to Consider Alcohol "Shall the sale at retail of alcoholic liquor be prohibited in the Village of Franklin Grove, County of Lee and State of Illinois?" To vote dry, vote Yes.

What is repeal teaching us, in direct contradiction to what was promised us?

1. That licensing a liquor traffic will not cure a depression.

2. That the bootlegger and the saloon can thrive side by side.

3. That this nation will eventually be all sober or all drunk.

4. That men can't drink and expect the women to abstain.

5. That the liquor traffic will sell to anyone who will buy.

6. That encouraging the beer trade does not stop the use of whiskey.

7. That "good" liquor will make you drunk.

8. That gasoline and alcohol will mix to form death.

9. That civilization is not a suitable scene for the drink custom.

ENFORCEMENT ILLINOIS LABOR LAW IS ORDERED

Springfield, Ill., March 31 — (AP)—On the heels of the United States Supreme Court's ruling upholding the Washington statute, the state department of labor set out today to enforce the Illinois minimum wage law for women and children.

Martin P. Durkin, director of the labor department, said he believed the court's action yesterday removed all doubt as to the validity of the Illinois law. No effort to enforce the state statute has been made since the Supreme Court in a previous opinion held the New York law unconstitutional.

Durkin said he planned to make a thorough study of the laundry, cotton garment and nuts and dates industries with the view to enforcing the minimum wage law.

He said he would appoint a wage board for the cotton garment industry and seek to make several department suggestions concerning the wage scale in the laundry industry mandatory.
